

AFTER THE CYCLONE.

Scenes of Wreckage and Devastation Around Wilkesbarre.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., August 20.—The destruction wrought by yesterday's cyclone is more apparent this morning. At South Wilkesbarre the Vulcan Iron works, James Norris' foundry and the Keystone flour mill felt the first shock, the wind dashing their heavy material about like straws.

The storm swept on up Main street, raising buildings on that thoroughfare, including handsome residences, stores and green houses. Then the cyclone spread east and west, destroying property until it spent itself in the woods.

The scene at Hazard's Wire Rope Works was terrible. The immense building was badly wrecked and in the debris lay many dead and injured. Ponderous machinery was mixed with brick, mortar and general rubbish in a confused mass. The number of injured men at these works exceeds twelve, with two killed.

The houses occupied by the families of James McGinley and James Henagan were leveled to the ground and the inmates held in the ruins. Mrs. Eliza Jane McGinley, aged about 28 years, her babe and John McGinley, aged 13, were crushed to death. Mary Jane McGinley, a little daughter, was severely hurt but but little hope is entertained of her recovery. The family of James Henagan could not be found and it is believed they all perished.

A careful estimate places the number of buildings demolished and partly destroyed at nearly 400. The loss will probably reach nearly $500,000. The number of killed is eleven; fatally injured, ten; severely injured, twenty-four.

PRISON DELIVERY.

Four Men Tunnel Their Way to Freedom at Folsom.

SACRAMENTO, August 20.—Mathias Blumer, Charles Gileman, Tom Wilson and C. H. Kohler, four convicts effected a marvelous escape from Folsom prison last night. The men failed to appear for work this morning and a search of their cell showed that a great slab of granite five feet long, two feet wide and two feet thick had been removed from the floor. Under this the prisoners had dug a tunnel sixty feet long shooting down a steep incline to get under the prison wall and when that was reached tunnelling upward again and opening on the lawn north of the prison.

In the tunnel were found an abundance of crowbars, chisels, hammers and drills. The work had evidently taken months to accomplish and the prisoners had disposed of the excavations by putting a little in their slop buckets every morning. Once outside the prison proper they easily scaled the walls and eluded the guards during the night. All the men are Germans and were employed in the stone quarry outside of the prison, where they secured the tools to work with. Descriptions of the men have been sent out, and a reward of $50 each is offered for their capture.

IDAHO'S CONVENTION.

Far ancient Organization Effected and Adjournment Taken Until Today.

BOISE CITY, Idaho, August 20.—The first Republican State Convention in the New State of Idaho assembled here today.

Fred Dubois, Chairman of the Committee, called the Convention to order. He said that the people of Idaho have every reason to be proud of the record of the National Republican party. It had sustained wide and patriotic sentiments, against treasonable Mormons, had given better silver legislation than people had dared to hope for, had protected the flocks and the mines against competition from the ill-paid peon labor of Spain and Mexico. It remained for us to fulfill our obligations to the National party.

J. S. Wheeler was chosen temporary chairman. After the appointments of the usual committees, the Convention took a recess until this evening.

The organization was completed at the evening session. W. W. Watkins was elected permanent chairman, after which the Convention adjourned until tomorrow.

Peace in Central America.

CITY OF MEXICO, August 20.—It is reported in Guatemala that the government is concentrating troops on the Coast and in the northern departments to act against the revolutionists, the troops being withdrawn from the Salvadorean frontier.

A despatch from Salvador says: "Dr. Galindo, Salvadoran envoy to Guatemala, is expected here tomorrow with a Protocol of Peace."

Grant Monument Association.

NEW YORK, August 20.—The Executive Committee of the Grant Monument Association met here today. The Treasurer reported that up to date he had received subscriptions to the amount of $147,112. The committee adopted a series of resolutions stating that the body of the illustrious American having been finally interred they would take no part in the discussion concerning the change of location of his grave.

A Land Office Decision.

WASHINGTON, August 20.—The First Assistant Secretary of the Interior Department today affirmed a decision of the Commissioner of the General Land Office of January 24, 1889, in the case of Joseph Pool against Patrick McLeoughney, involving a tract of land in San Francisco district. The decision is in favor of Pool.

A Well-Known Miner Dead.

Cape May Point Honored.

WASHINGTON, August 20.—The President left Washington this morning for a week's visit to Cape May Point, accompanied by ex-Senator Sewell, of New Jersey.

Why It Halted.

[Prescott Journal-Miner].

One of the coldest combinations, probably, that ever met in one set on a dancing platform, was observed at the barbeque at Chino valley recently. W. A. Freeze and Miss Shivers occupied the head of the set, while opposite to them were Mr. Shivers and partner, the male portion of the side couples being J. C. Snow and J. C. Storms. Icicles are said to have formed on the "fiddle strings" during the progress of the dance. No wonder that a hail storm interrupted the progress of the barbeque.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

J. K. Burnett has sold to J. L. Giant, his fine hack.

Special Agent Bowman leaves on the morning train for Tucson. He will return in several days.

By direction of the Board of Supervisors a force of men will start work this morning repairing the Tempe road.

Santos Quijada was yesterday sentenced by Recorder Schwartz to fifty days' imprisonment for wife beating.

Victorio Para, arrested for using vulgar and obscene language on the public street, will be tried this morning in the Recorder's court.

The four Chinamen arrested in the opium joint Tuesday evening plead not guilty on being brought before Justice Richards. The trial will take place at 10 a. m. today. Lawyers Edwards and Street have been engaged by the defense.

Dr. J. D. McLennan returned yesterday from San Francisco, on his way to Prescott, where he will spend a few weeks. The Doctor is being greeted by the many friends he made during his sojourn here in the spring. All are pleased to learn that he will probably spend the coming winter with us.

A letter was yesterday received by a Phoenix gentleman from Douglas Gray in which he stated that he was at E. Pace, and happily married to a Miss Nickerson. The marriage was quite a surprise to the friends of Mr. Gray in Phoenix, but hearty congratulations are in store for him when he returns.

The Board of Supervisors were in session yesterday. The boundaries of Phoenix Road District No. 1, and Tempe Road District No. 3, were so changed as to confine each district to its own proper side of Salt River. Dr. Hughes was allowed $53.33 for professional services rendered to indigents. The recently purchased Potter's Field was ordered cleared.

Attorney-General Churchill has rendered an opinion on the claim of Professor Long against the Territory, for services rendered as Principal of the Normal School at Tempe, in favor of Professor Long. The opinion is based upon the grounds that Mr. Long was simply an employee of the Normal School Board, that body engaging him and fixing his salary, and as such employee, even though employed by an illegal de facto board, is entitled to his salary as a servant of the Territory.

The Castle Creek Road.

There is now every probability that the Castle Creek road to the Bradshaws will be speedily put into good condition. A subscription paper, handed yesterday to a few local business men, bore in the afternoon the following items: Maricopa and Phoenix Railroad Company, $1000; H. E. Kemp & Co., $400; F. J. Trank, $400; Goldman & Co., $400; Valley Bank, $250. To this list many other firms will, no doubt, add handsomely when they obtain a sight of the paper. The document authorizes A. T. Marsh to construct a ten-foot wagon road, with convenient turning out places, from a point near the mouth of Castle Creek, a distance of fifteen miles, to Minnehaha Flat. The work is to be done under the supervision of a committee of three, who will make such payments, from time to time as there has been work done to justify.

I. N. Large, of the Castle Creek Mining Company, has returned after an outing in California, in which he combined business with pleasure. A complete five-stamp mill is among the improvements to his property, purchased by Mr. Large while in San Francisco. The mill was shipped from the Risdon Iron Works last Sunday, and will be here in a few days.

Mesa Matters.

Special Correspondence of THE REPUBLICAN.

MESA, Ariz., August 18.—As a Republican, I desire to deny the statement made recently in the Gazette that the delegation from here to the Republican Convention are against the administration. It is not so; they were not elected on any such issue.

Our primaries here last Friday were a grand success, thirty-five unanimous votes being cast. Four of the voters were recent converts from the Democracy. Mesa can safely be put down for seventy-five Republican votes next election.

At the Democratic primaries, on Saturday, the "Priesthood" ticket was elected with the exception of C. B. Lewis. The straight Democratic ticket, headed by W. N. Standage, was defeated, though carrying Stringtown by thirty-five majority. Standage is much more popular here than his opponent.
